Hany Sarhan

English Language Translator & Instructor at Ministry of Defense Language Institute
Alexandria, Egypt

Summary

I have passed through miscellaneous multicultural environments since I graduated from the Faculty of Languages, Ain Shams University, Egypt in 1994. My first experience as a translator was at the Ministry of Defence Language Institute in Cairo, Egypt (1995-1997). I devoted considerable periods of my career to banking, financial & legal translation as I worked at Doha Bank (Qatar) and then at Qatar Islamic Bank (Qatar). However, I experienced miscellaneous translations including auto, news, religious, literary, and scientific.

It may be worth mentioning that from 01/10/2010 to 30/11/2014 I paid nine business visits to some European countries (Ireland, Germany, France, Netherlands and Belgium) as an interpreter and purchasing manager of an Egyptian Truck company. This has greatly enhanced my experience and added to my skills.

I do believe that I am hard-working, dedicated to work and always willing to achieve new heights in my career.
