PROFILE

My name is Thompson, and I am a professional translator with a passion for languages. I specialize in translating content from Danish, Spanish, and English, and I am excited to bring my skills and experience to your next project. As a professional translator, I have the expertise and experience to deliver accurate and nuanced translations in a wide range of fields, from legal documents to marketing materials, technical manuals to literary works. With a deep understanding of both the source and target languages, I can help you convey your message clearly and effectively, without losing the subtleties and nuances that make your words unique.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Vegalia.fr
Lead Translation

I worked as a translator for a large international company. I was responsible for translating documents from English to Spanish/Danish. Furthermore, I also provided interpretation services to Danish/Spanish-speaking clients. I worked closely with other translators and interpreters to ensure accuracy and fluency in all translations.

Dune Inc.
Translation Intern

I have worked as a freelance translator for the past 5 years. I have experience translating a variety of documents, including legal documents, medical documents, and technical manuals. I have also worked as a translation reviewer, editing and proofreading translated documents for accuracy and clarity. In addition, I have experience teaching English as a second language, which has helped me develop strong communication skills.
