

Yuri Sterck

EN/ES/FR/DE/IT - PT/EN Translator

I'm a fiction writer with a deep passion for language learning, having entered this wonderful world of translation two years ago. Over this period, I had the opportunity to work with a great variety of texts: from literature and cultural content subtitling to life science articles as well as political/economical ones - among a couple of other areas. Furthermore, while building up those working experiences, my goal has always been to deliver quality-based translation without leaving aside the crucial importance of deadlines.
